

Anneta Kapon

Born in 1950 in Athens. She studied English literature at the Aristotle University of Thessaloniki (graduated in 1972) and at the Queen Mary College in London (1973). She was taught sculpture at the Otis Art Institute of Parsons School of Design (1985) and at the University of California, Los Angeles (1992). Lives and works in Los Angeles.

Solo exhibitions (selection): 1991, Southern California Institute for Architecture, Los Angeles • 1992, Southern Exposure, San Francisco • 1994, University of California, Riverside • 1995, Hewlett Gallery, Carnegie Mellon University, Pittsburgh.

Group exhibitions (selection): 1985, Los Angeles Institute of Contemporary Art • 1991, Highways Gallery, Santa Monica, California • 1992, Body and Soul, Warren Street Gallery, New York • 1993, Mondo Lot: sine qua non, Robert Berman Gallery, Santa Monica, California • 1994, The Ecstasy of Limits, Gallery 400, Chicago • 1994, Ileana Tounta Contemporary Art Center, Athens.