

Aspasia Krystalla was born in Athens in 1979. She grew up between Athens and Sitias Lastro collecting images and experiences which later constituted important references in her artistic work. In 1999 she started her studies in the Department of Social Work in the Technological Educational Institution (ATEI) of Athens. Meanwhile she was accepted in the School of Fine Arts (ASFA) in Athens in 2002. She attended drawing courses under the guidance of the Professor T. Patraskidis and graduated with distinction in 2007. She has participated in various group shows, such as the "Graduate of Fine Arts Students 2007", February 2009 and "Triennial of Young Artists" in Istanbul, June 2005. Since September 2008, she lives and works in Berlin.
