Short Bio:

Nurit Bar-Shai is a New York based inter-media artist who composes interactive, telematic mechanically live installations, thinks long-distance and streams locally.

Her work has exhibited widely, including at the Brooklyn Museum, the OK-Center in Linz, The National Art Center in Tokyo, SESI Gallery in Sao Paulo, and The Center for Digital Art in Israel. Bar-Shai received a Prix Ars Electronica 2007 Honorary Mention, the 11th Japan Media Arts Festival Jury Award, and was commissioned an art grant with Turbulence.org, funded in part by the Greenwall Foundation. In addition to eMobiLArt, Bar-Shai has held residencies at the Experimental Television Center, the Makor Steinhardt Center, and Harvestworks.
